Library Fund.

Prominent women of the cathedral parish have undertaken to assist the Young Women's Society in raising funds to enlarge their library. An entertainment under the patronage of these women assisted by the sodalists will be given at Grandall hall, Eighteenth and Welton streets, on Friday, Feb. 28. It will consist of a card party, dance and playlet by the Jefferson dramatic club.

The young women are taking especial pride in their library, and the subscriptions are becoming so extensive that they will soon be able to add to the 500 volumes now on hand. A goodly fund will be raised from the library entertainment. The women who are patrons of the affair are: Mrs. John P. Campbell, Mrs. Dennis Sheedy, Mrs. J. W. Benson, Mrs. W. P. Moran, Mrs. George T. Kearns, Mrs. Nellie K. Denman and Mrs. Thomas J. O'Donnell.

These women met at the home of Mrs. F. K. Paul, 175 Clarkson street, on Tuesday evening of this week and perfected the plan of the program. They will be assisted by a large corps of workers from all parts of the parish. The fact that the Lenten season is close at hand, and that a quietus will then be put on all forms of enjoyment, makes the library entertainment a work of liberal patronage. It is certainly deserving of it. The prizes for the card game are elaborate, those for the women being donated by Mayor Robert W. Speer, and for the men by Mrs. Campbell. No expense has been spared to make these prizes worth winning.

Wedding Bells.

On Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at 1011 Madison street in Logan avenue chapel, Rev. H. L. McMenamin officiating, Miss Helen Wilkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Charles Manahan of St. Louis. The wedding was a simple one, but the friends of the bride thronged the church. Miss Wilkin was attended by her sister, Miss Catherine Wilkin, and Mr. Manahan by Charles Manahan, a brother of the groom. The brides were Walter Kirwin and Dr. James I. Laughlin.

A reception in the evening at the home of the bride, 1215 Corona street, was attended by a large number of friends, who brought good wishes for the young people.

Mr. and Mrs. Manahan left during the evening for St. Louis, where they will make their future home. Mrs. Manahan is a charter member of the Queen's Daughters, and a graduate of the convent at Florissant, Mo.

The Marriage Regulations.

The encyclical of Pope Pius X concerning the sacrament of matrimony and the new regulations governing the same have been officially received in the diocese of Denver and, by order of N. O. Matz, is now being explained to the faithful. In many of the parishes of the diocese the reading of the pronouncements was begun last Sunday, and will continue on two successive Sundays, each feature of it being explained in detail. The doctrines were extensively discussed in this country last fall. The Inter-mountain Catholic taking occasion at that time to explain some disputed features. It, however, was not formally presented to the people from the pulpits of the various churches until last Sunday. Following is a summary of the salient features of the new law:

Marriage of Catholics by civil magistrates after Easter will be null and void.

Engagements to be binding must be written and signed in presence of two or more witnesses.

Private betrothals between Catholics after Easter begot no matrimonial obligation in eyes of church.

Fallen-away Catholics, whether they become Protestants or infidels, bound by these laws.

Bishops, after assuming office, can only marry in own diocese.

Priests, after assuming office, can marry only in own parish.

Marriages must be with consent of both parties and asked and received by a witness of the ceremony.

Marriages are invalid unless there be two witnesses besides the priest or bishop.

Marriage should take place in parish of bride, except for reason.

Marriages entered into in case of danger of death can be witnessed by any priest and two other persons.

In absence of priest for more than month Catholics can marry under civil law in presence of two witnesses.

Rev. Father Hickey Buried.
The priests who twenty years ago assisted Rev. James G. Hickey, then stationed at the old Stout street cathedral, to arrange the ceremonies for the consecration of St. John the Evangelist church on Wednesday of this week in the pro-cathedral on Logan avenue to officiate at the last sad rites over the body of Father Hickey, who on Sunday, Feb. 16, succumbed to a lingering illness at St. Mary's hospital in Pueblo, Years ago Denver Catholics rejoiced in the friendship of Father Hickey, but for some time past his health has kept him in the mountain climate where his activities had been watched with keen interest by all who knew him.

Father Hickey was born in Maine and when he came to Colorado twenty-two years ago to labor among the western missions was full of youthful enthusiasm. After serving for two years at the old cathedral, he was assigned to mission work in and around Brighton, Idaho Springs was next the scene of his labors, from which he was transferred to Aspen. Such great success always attended his efforts that he was constantly changed to wherever it required unusual tact to build up a new parish. Thus it happened that he became very well known and loved nearly all over the state, and so all over the state are sad hearts now almost immediately beginning the obsequies of the holy man. It was while attending to his duties in Durango that Father Hickey's health commenced to fail three years ago, and he went for a long vacation on the Pacific coast, but without deriving any benefit from the change of climate. A trip to Cuba and the Bermuda Islands followed, but again he returned too ill to attend to his ministerial duties, and was forced to journey again in California. Upon his return to Colorado, he was appointed chaplain of St. Scholastica's academy in Canon City, but several months ago retired from active life and became an inmate of St. Mary's hospital in Pueblo, where he lingered until last Sunday. Though ill for so many years, Father Hickey's courage came at an unexpected time. He had been up and around all morning, and at noon was about to enter the dining room when he was seized with a sudden faintness and was being carried to his room passed almost immediately beginning the obsequies of the holy man. The body was brought to Denver, where the funeral was held from Logan avenue chapel, Wednesday morning. The high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. P. A. Phillips, with Rev. William O'Ryan as deacon and Rev. J. P. Carignan sub-deacon. The sermon was preached by Rev. Father O'Ryan, and was touching in the extreme. The music was furnished by Professor Michel's choir. In the sanctuary were priests from all parishes in the city, as well as from several neighboring towns.

Father Hickey was laid to rest in Mount Olivet cemetery in the section reserved for the burial of the priests of the diocese, and where repose the saintly Bishop Bachebouf, Father Raverdy and others with whom Father Hickey was associated in the early history of the church in Colorado.

Church Notes.

Rev. Father McCabe of Idaho Springs was in Denver early this week and remained for the funeral of Rev. Father Hickey.

The annual election of officers of the Good Shepherd Aid association called together a large number of members at the meeting held Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 11, at the home of Mrs. W. P. Moran, 281 Curtis street. The election resulted in the choice of Mrs. Thomas F. Dolan for president; Mrs. F. M. Davis, first vice president; Mrs. M. C. Harrington, second vice president; Mrs. M. A. McEllen, third vice president; Mrs. M. A. McEllen, financial secretary; Mrs. F. N. Hess, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph Walsh, chaplain; auditing committee, Mrs. T. J. McCue, chairman, Miss Margaret O'Keefe and Mrs. J. N. Hubbard.

Beautiful hand decorated china was given the retiring president, Mrs. Hubbard, in token of the members' appreciation of her great worth and her unremitting efforts in behalf of the society. Mrs. Hubbard responded with her accustomed grace and eloquence. The society has just completed one of the most successful years of its history, notwithstanding the fact that it was found necessary to forego the annual ball last November on account of a press of charitable affairs.

The Queen of Heaven Aid society met on Tuesday, Feb. 18, at the home of Mrs. W. A. Graber, 2130 Downing avenue. The meeting was excellently attended. This society, though less than two years of age, has forged ahead to the front ranks of charitable associations, and now proudly claims a membership of 178.

Thursday afternoon, Feb. 20, the Sacred Heart Ladies' Aid society met with Mrs. C. J. Kelly, 1156 Gaylord street. Much of business was transacted; in fact, the meeting was never held so many calls upon its bounty as with in the past few months, but fortunately it has not been found necessary to withhold aid from any deserving person asking for it.

St. Dominic's court, No. 476, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, gave a delightful card party Thursday evening, Feb. 20, at 209 Charles building.

Personal.

Miss Jennie Gillis is spending the week in Fort Collins.

Miss Josephine Shevlin was the gracious hostess this week of the Wednesday Afternoon Literary club. Miss Shevlin also read an interesting paper on "Egypt and the Holy Land." The meeting was one of the most delightful the club has enjoyed this season.

Miss Nellie Fulman, one of the most popular young women of Harman, left recently for a visit of some length with her brother, Will Fulman, who is one of the engineering corps engaged in the construction of the Panama canal.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McIntyre have moved from the north side and are now settled in their new home at 1625 Marion street.

Mrs. K. M. Dougherty left last week for a two months' visit in California.

Two young pupils of St. Mary's academy, Ruth Marian Coyne and Loyse Agnes Ellingson, after a course of instruction in Catholic doctrine by Rev. Father McMenamin, were received into the church Sunday afternoon, Feb. 16. The ceremony was performed in the convent chapel by Father McMenamin.

Dr. H. H. Chisolm of the staff of St. Anthony's hospital was taken to that institution on Monday, January 13. Dr. Chisolm makes his home at the Shirley Annex.

Mrs. Atkins of 711 Logan avenue is deceased. Her husband was given the last sacrament on Sunday by Rev. Father McMenamin.

An early morning wedding took place Wednesday at Logan avenue chapel, when Miss Nora Moran became the bride of Daniel O'Neill. The ceremony was performed at 7:30 o'clock mass by Rev. J. F. McDonough.

Obituary.

Tuesday, Feb. 11, Mrs. Sarah O'Neill died at her home, 2048 California street, at the age of 73 years and 6 months. Mrs. O'Neill was 73 years of age, and a native of Ireland. She had resided in Denver for many years, and was a devout attendant of Sacred Heart church, from which her funeral was held Friday morning. Mrs. O'Neill was the mother of Felix O'Neill, at one time prominent in local politics.

After an illness of but a few days, Patrick P. Lynch, eldest son of Michael P. Lynch of 228 Forest street, died at the family home last week. Deceased was a young man of high moral character, and a Knight of Columbus, belonging to Rock Island council No. 658. Knights of Columbus attended the funeral, as did a delegation from the Leather Workers' union, in which Mr. Lynch was affiliated. A brother, James Lynch, had just entered upon a new position on one of the St. Louis dailies as newspaper artist, a position in which he achieved fame on one of the Denver papers, when news of his brother's illness was telegraphed him, and he hastened home, arriving, however, a few hours too late.

The funeral of Michael Powers of 4833 Irving street occurred on Thursday, Feb. 13, from the Church of the Holy Family in Berkeley. Rev. Lawrence Pede, S. J., officiated. Burial was in Mount Olivet cemetery.

An anniversary high requiem mass was sung in Logan avenue chapel for the repose of the soul of Dennis Callahan, a prominent member of the parish, who died several years ago.

Rev. Timothy O'Brien, former pastor of the Church of St. John the Evangelist in Harman, is sojourning with relatives in San Francisco.

Rev. Charles Carr, who, besides officiating as chaplain of St. Joseph's hospital is pastor of the Harman Catholic church, had hoped that before the beginning of the holy season of Lent he would be able to return to a cottage somewhere in the vicinity of his church in order that he might give his congregation more elaborate Lenten devotion than of late he has been enjoying. Bishop Maltz, however, will not be able to give him relief from his duties at the hospital until Easter, after which time he will reside permanently in Harman. The congregation expects to begin work in the spring upon a modest cottage adjoining the Church of St. John the Evangelist, which will become the parochial residence. To raise the funds for this project the members of the parish are giving a series of card parties which are proving very successful.

SPOKANE, WASH.

(Special Correspondence.)

Spokane, Wash., Feb. 20.—Sisters of the Catholic mission at Desmet on the Coeur d'Alene reservation in northern Idaho, have elected their new officers. The new officers are: Sister Mary, who came to the sisters' school in Spokane and several have gone to Wallace, Ida. The sister superior has received advice that the reservation school will be rebuilt this spring, the structure being of brick and equipped with all modern conveniences.

Miss Louise Zimmerman, formerly of Los Angeles, where she graduated with honors in a prominent institution, has taken charge of the department of elocution at the academy of Holy Names, teaching elocution, expression and voice culture. During her short stay she has already made many friends, especially among the younger folk.

Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, has elected their officers for the year: President, P. B. Keane; vice president, James Hamill; recording secretary, Edward Sweeney; financial secretary, James Gorman; treasurer, J. D. Buchanan; sergeant-at-arms, J. Murphy; sentinel, James Butler; chaplain, Rev. Father Fitzgerald.

Rev. Father Herman J. Goller, president of Gonzaga college, presented twelve members with diplomas on the occasion of the graduation exercises of the Young Ladies' Solidity of St. Aloysius church, who are conducting the ceremonies. The new members are: Lillian Dorsey, Helen Bradley, Martina Nixon, Mary McDonald, Ellen Murphy, Ella Murphy, Beatrice O'Brien, Brennan, Vician Motte, Emily Motte, Francis Motte and Catherine Crealey.

Gonzaga college will have the first of a series of public oratorical contests in March, when twelve young men will discuss three subjects: Joseph Van Houslon, "Classical Education," Joseph Codd, "Socialism," John Healey, "Patriotism," Aloysius Hogan, "The Present Financial Crisis," Earl Healey, "The Development of the North," Albinus Andrews, "Alaska," Ambrose Codd, "Liberal Education," Marcus Borman, "George Washington," Thomas Finnegan, "The Hero of Samos," Joseph Clancy, "The Nation's Flag," Walter Tuschner, "Our Republic," and George Hubert, "The Standard Oil Versus Judge Blair." A gold medal will be presented to the winner.

Members of the congregation of St. Francis church at Lidgerwood, a suburb of Spokane, recently assisted Father Hermann in celebrating the first anniversary of the church's opening. The celebrant were Fathers O'Reilly and Bailey. Rev. Father Goller delivered the anniversary sermon. It is given out that a parochial school will be built this year to accommodate the needs of the children of the congregation.

Ladies' auxiliary of the Ancient Order of Hibernians elected these officers at a recent meeting: President, Mrs. J. W. Crosby; vice president, Mrs. William Clorah; recording secretary, Miss Lucy Johnson; financial secretary, Mrs. May G. de Romo; treasurer, Mrs. Frances Stewart; chairman of standing committee, Mrs. M. Govanals; secretary, Mrs. John Clark; sentinel, Miss Ellen Murphy; guard, Miss Agnes Barrett; chaplain, Rev. Father Fitzgerald. A class of twenty-five was initiated at a session following the election.

George Varnell, formerly of the Chicago Athletic club and director of athletics at the Chicago University, and lately with the Spokane Amateur Athletic club, has taken up athletic work at Gonzaga college, where he has charge of the football, baseball and track squad. He has plenty of material for turning out strong teams, and in bringing out the best, as well as training the boys to care for their bodies.

Mrs. B. L. Gordon was hostess at the second annual banquet for members of the various musical organizations in the music hall at Gonzaga college. In responding to "Our Hostess," President Goller of the college, made the statement that the highest praise that could be accorded to Mrs. Gordon. Rev. Patrick O'Reilly, S. J., Rev. J. A. Kennedy, S. J., and members of the faculty of the college responded to toasts in the most felicitous manner. Musical numbers were given by the different organizations of the college, and a song by E. W. White, who was formerly organist of the United States battleship Philadelphia, was also much appreciated, as was a violin solo by Ralph Gordon, son of the hostess.

Father George de la Motte, and his secretary, Father Melchers, have returned to Spokane after an absence of a month, most of the time being spent in an official visit to the Dakota missions for Indiana. The Catholic church maintains two large Indian missions in the Dakota, the Holy Rosary and the St. Francis. Father de la Motte has oversight of the Catholic missions from the Dakotas to the Pacific coast, and south to California.

At the marriage of Miss Helen Anderson and Cadwallader Jones, which will be at All Saints' cathedral on the night of Feb. 26, Miss Carolyn Richards will be maid of honor, Miss Maud McKelven of Seattle will be first bridesmaid, and the other bridesmaids will be Miss Elizabeth Smith of Seattle, Miss Bernice Baker of Tacoma, Miss Bertha Potter of Tacoma, and Miss Hazel Lease. Wallace A. McBurney will be best man, and the usher will be Richard M. Jones of Portland. Thomas S. McGrath of Portland, Frank Sweeney, Thomas C. Binney, Robert Hanley and Joseph C. Tyler. Many social affairs have been planned for the holidays, the first being a luncheon today by Miss Mabel Wall. Luncheons and dinners for Miss Anderson will be of almost daily occurrence from now till the date of her marriage.

BOISE, IDA.

(Special Correspondence.)

Last Tuesday evening, Feb. 11, was a pleasant occasion for the members of Boise council 899, Knights of Columbus and their friends. The knights of that evening suspended their regular order of business and issued a general invitation to the Catholics of Boise to meet with them and enjoy a literary program. The exercises of the evening were opened with a lecture by Father Keyser, our esteemed parish priest. The father took for his subject the Spanish Inquisition. He opened his discourse by showing the social and political conditions which called for severe repressive measures by the government, that law and order might be maintained and a diversion in favor of the Moors prevented. For this purpose an extraordinary court called the inquisition was established. It can therefore be seen that it was a political and not a religious tribunal. To show conclusively that it was not established, nor even encouraged by the church he called attention to the fact that three Popes condemned it for exceeding too much severity. It clearly followed that the church was not responsible for the acts of this Spanish court. Yet it might be said that anything done by the Inquisition of a barbarous character was a reflection on the Catholic church, because the Spaniards were Catholic. In answer to this he said one must remember that it was an age in which the human family was not as refined as it now is, although when we take into account the tyrannical rule of the monarchs of the southern states, we have improved but very little. It filled one with horrors to contemplate the cruelties practiced on the Catholics in the British Isles. A common expression of the day was, "Drive the Irish to hell as you would a dog." A brutal cry that meant the extermination of a race. In speaking of severe repressive measures he referred to the treatment of the witches in the United States.

The lecturer gave his hearers a clear conception of the Inquisition that they ever had before. After the lecture, Mr. Luke Cosgrave, leading man of the Salt Lake dramatic company now playing an engagement at the Turner theatre in this city, introduced and favored the audience with several dramatic and comic recitations which were highly appreciated, as was evidenced by the frequent rounds of applause. His rendition of the Raven was particularly noteworthy.

Boise council is not without dramatic ability of its own, and after Mr. Cosgrave concluded, Brother Nicholas Villanova was introduced. He claimed the sympathy of the audience from the start, as he related the tragic events that led up to the death of his favorite dog, Kosciusko.

After the close of the regular exercises the knights and their friends sat down to a smoker which was enlivened by the merry songs of those who were musically inclined.

A luncheon was served to conclude the entertainment and all went home satisfied that they had spent a pleasant and profitable evening.

Following along at the regular meeting of the Ada County Democratic club Monday evening. The addresses of the evening were delivered by James H. Hawley, Dr. Mahabery and N. E. Brase.

Friday being the feast of St. Valentine, a program was rendered by some of the pupils, which was most appropriate for the occasion. Cupid being the principal factor. The program was as follows:

BUTTE, MONT.

Emmet David Dillon, the fifteen-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Dillon, 544 West Broadway, died Sunday of spinal meningitis. He leaves five sisters, Mrs. Arthur Jordan, Mrs. John E. Cullerton, Mrs. Will Green of Lewistown, Idaho, Miss Winnifred and Miss Elizabeth, and two brothers, Richard and Holland. He was a nephew of Mrs. D. F. Reinhard, Mrs. D. A. Dickson and Mrs. Patrick Mullins of North Yakima, Wash.

He was a student at St. Patrick's school and was greatly liked by his teachers and schoolmates for his brightness, kind and generous disposition.

Morris Hurley, aged fifty years, residing at 119 West Broadway, died Monday of consumption, after an illness of several months' duration. Mr. Hurley was a native of Ireland, but had been a resident of Butte for the past fourteen years. He had many friends in this city and enjoyed their highest respect. He leaves a widow and one daughter.

Sunday evening's services at St. Patrick's church brought to a close the four weeks' mission conducted there by Fathers Dougherty, Drumm and Bohman, which was one of the most successful ever held in this part of the country. During the course of the mission, thousands of persons assembled at St. Patrick's church to hear the lectures and sermons and participate in the services. Interest in the work never flagged and it was certain that had it been decided to continue the mission it would have been attended by as many people as gathered to attend it during its career.

The first week was for the women of the parish. The second week was for the men, the third week for non-Catholics and the fourth week for those unable to attend the preceding weeks.

The missionaries who had charge of the week of the mission which was devoted to lectures for non-Catholics, continued Father Dougherty, in speaking of the mission and its results. "The attendance was very large and the interest displayed by the non-Catholics was really inspiring. The questions submitted without exception manifested the spirit of fairness existing. Not a single question bore the least taint of malice. The purpose of the lectures that were given that week was purely educational and the sermons were received in the spirit in which they were delivered. We shall always think of Butte as one of the country's greatest cities. The city is worthy of its renown."

Rev. Father DeSiere, pastor of St. Patrick's church, expressed himself as greatly pleased with the mission. He said it was the most successful ever held in the parish. Fathers Drumm and Bohman began a three weeks' mission at St. Paul's church in Anaconda, Sunday. They were joined Tuesday by Father Dougherty, who will lend powerful aid in conducting the mission there.

The services at St. Patrick's church Sunday evening were brought to a close with the administering of the papal blessing and the benediction of the blessed sacrament.

The closing sermon of the mission was delivered by Father Dougherty, who spoke on "The Mercy of God." He stated in beginning that in his sermon he would devote his entire attention to the mercy of God, having already spoken of the justice of God and God's wrath, due to the sins of mankind.

"We have traced the divine justice to the bitter end of the sinner's career," said Father Dougherty, "because we recognize that fear often drives men to the practice of virtue where love would be powerless to lead."

Father Dougherty in detail explained the doctrine of the church in regard to the mercy of God.

"Thy mercy, O Lord, is above all thy works. There is nothing in us that can resist the love of God," continued Father Dougherty. "There is no time in this life when a man need despair. If only he will come to God with repentance for the past and determination for good in the future he will find pardon and peace."

ANACONDA, MONT.

Dr. Spellman received a telegram on Monday evening notifying him of the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Coburn, at North Yakima, Wash. The doctor at once took a special train for Durant and caught the westbound North Coast Limited. Mrs. Coburn was well known here. Her death will be deeply regretted by the many friends of the family in this city. Mrs. Coburn was also the mother of Mrs. E. S. Maxwell of Seattle.

Mrs. Marcus Daly arrived in the city Monday evening on a special train and is visiting at the home of her mother in this city. Miss Martha Evans, sister of Mrs. Daly, is reported to be quite ill at her home, 522 Hickory street.

Miss Florence Flavin of Denver is in the city visiting Mrs. Joseph Devine for a few weeks.

Mrs. Michael Barry, one of the oldest residents of Anaconda, died at St. Ann's hospital Monday after a short illness. She was in advanced years and lived at 214 West Third street. No immediate relatives are known, but her band having died some time ago. The funeral was held Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Mass was celebrated at St. Paul's church.
